Healing, Learning, Community

Our Vision:

- to offer donation-based healing work to our community
- to offer students of NIASZIIH an opportunity to hone their healing skills
- to deepen our skills in offering multiple-healer healings
- to educate our community about the path of healing
- to build connection among healers and with our larger community

Who We Are: a group of NIASZIIH students and NIASZIIH Practitioners, all dedicated to a path of healing for self and others. We wish to offer our services to our community in these healing clinics, while also deepening our skill in working together with other healers. In this clinic, all healings will be done by 2 or 3 healers working on one client at the same time, allowing a synergy between healers to add power and depth to the healing work. Below is a list of healers participating in the clinic.

What is NIASZIIH? NIASZIIH (pronounced Ni-a-zee-EYE) is a nature-based system of healing that works with awareness and deep contact in healing the body, mind, and spirit. It addresses both the limitations and the gifts that arise from our wounding, while moving towards more peace, love, joy, and purpose. These teachings have been passed down to other healers from Lipan Apache elder, scout, and shaman, Stalking Wolf. NIASZIIHhealing training is done through wildernessFusion, where it takes 4 years of training to become a NIASZIIH Practitioner and 7 years of training to become a NIASZIIH Healer.
